VANCOUVER B.C. – Quesnel City Councillor Mary Sjostrom has been elected for a second term to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities Board as a director at large. Sjostrom has served on the Board for three years, two as North Central Municipalities Association president and one as director at large.

“On behalf of Council, I congratulate Councillor Sjostrom for this achievement,” said Mayor Nate Bello. “Having a representative on the UBCM Board is of benefit to Quesnel, and I know she will do all she can to represent local governments well.”

“Whether we’re small, medium or large-sized municipalities or regional districts, we all need to work together to ensure our communities are as vibrant and liveable as possible,” said Sjostrom. “I’m delighted to have the opportunity to be on the Board and to ensure the interests of local government are well presented to senior governments.”

Sjostrom served the past year as Chair of the convention committee, and sat on both the UBCM tourism and safety committees.

“UBCM is a powerful voice for local government, one that I’m proud to be a part of,” added Sjostrom. “I look forward to working with all my colleagues across the province and the work we’ll do in the coming year.”
